Professional Liability Insurance for Scientists & Science Related Consultants

Periodic tables identify stable and unstable elements.
A periodic review of your insurance policy will do the same.

Why Do I Need Scientists Professional Liability Insurance?

A science and technical consulting professional faces potential financial risk due to the services delivered to their clients. Are they covered under their current miscellaneous professional liability policy? Most of the time, they are shoehorned into this type of coverage, without specific protections geared towards their professional focus. Tokio Marine HCC – Cyber and Professional Lines Group (CPLG) designed a policy with Biologists, Chemists and other Science professionals in mind.
